WE ARE AUTHORIZED TO AN-NOUNCE THE HOR. NAT. WOLFE AS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS IN THIS

LAUREL BLUFF, KY., May 4, 1863.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: So far as I can learn, the Douglas Democrats are loyal and wish the war prosecuted, until the rebellion is crushed. The Breckinridge Democrats are for the war ceasing, that the rebels may tilumph, of course. Mr. Harney's course does not surprise loyal Democrats much, as he has been regarded as unsound for e last six months. However, one thing doe surprise us; and that is, after he, in 1857, took such strong ground against Know-Nothing ism, that he would, in 1863, identify himself with the Knights of the Golden Circle.

A DOUGLAS DEMOCRAT. This man, although a follower of the brazer calf, has, at least, this much honesty in him: that, although he misrepresents us in some re spects, he acknowledges that for six months (that is, ever since we saw the reality of proclamations, aiming to change the present status of labor and capital in the South) we have op posed it, believing that laws, constitutions and the like, made to protect citizens in their Journal has been trying to prove us inconsist ent; his correspondent, who is doubtless a reader of our paper, or assumes to be, proves

Whether we are loyal or not we leave frank ly and fully to the readers of our paper, repudiating now, as ever, that test of loyalty that undertakes to disturb the present condition of the State, and put an inferior race on an equality with a higher.

And to charge also a Government price of three hundred dollars per negro, bought by the Administration in the District of Columbia against all law, and three hundred dollars for carry on the war.

If so many pieces of silver for each don't put the negro and the white man on an equality, our market and financial column, to which every merchant and farmer in the Northwest looks for the rise and fall of gold, and the value of beef and pork in Kentucky, had better be discontinued.

There is one thing surprises this "Douglas Democrat"-that we in 1857 were against Know-Nothingism, etc.

Know-Nothingism was dead and laid in its grave in the fall of 1856, one year before this choice Democrat of the Journal dates it, when Buchanan was elected President. We never tried to disturb the dead, however much we have felt it necessary to oppose its ghostly spirit that walks the earth lately.

If there are any Knights of the Golden Circle, we denounce and oppose them. We never have belonged and never will belong to any secret political society, and never will enopen and before all men, and we would scorn secresy.

But since this correspondent charges us with inconsistency, it is only fair to warn him, if he is not already as worn member of it, with all the grips and pass words at his fingers' ends, that there is now in Kentucky a secret "loyal league," originated in the East, got up and intended to carry this State wherever the Administration chooses to put it. But as we defeated one secret political society, we intend and will defeat another; and if he will not go with us, he had better get out of the way, fo the cars are in motion.

value of lying about the army of the Potomar, The telegraph has been busy with reports that Hooker had crossed the Rappahannock agair, and was moving on without resistance-no enemy to be found. All of which was false. Hooker, it seems, has not crossed the river at portant service which has now been entrusted all, and there is no probability that he will make another such experiment. After several days' hard fighting an army is not ready, without time to recuperate, to resume offensive operations.

We have been told, too, of demonstrations from Fortress Monroe upon Richmond, which took Richmond one day, according to a startling report. This costs a good deal of gunpowder, beside the mortification produced by the reflection upon one's gullibility. Our private opinion is, that these lies are unprofit able. They don't pay expenses. We suppose one object is to make a show for foreign con sumption; but these false representations will be corrected in time, and the impression will be much worse than if these falsehoods bad never been told.

There were some symptoms of disaffection, which would, perhaps, have amounted to something, if Hooker had not met with a disaster, instead of winning a victory. The notice of the arrest of disloyal persons in Mississippi a few weeks ago, shows that all is not | yet prevails in that city, and now that all the right in Dixie. The State of Georgia does not relish some of the Confederate acts. Indeed, of the place, they fear that Peck, with hi it would be marvelous if the grinding despotism in the South did not produce reaction. Sooner or later it must, as all such despotic practices do. The Government, however, can maintain its system of terror as long as its armies are victorious. Defeats only create disaffection; success insures a lease of power.

This is one of the worst effects of the unsuccessful attempt to advance from the Rappahannock. We may not know the extent of the disaster, but the rebels will know all about it and more too; for they will add all the embellishments necessary to make out a splendid victory. They will fire all Dixle with all the exploits they performed, and as many more

There is a commendable tone about the prayers and thanksgivings of these rebels. "If any is afflicted, let him pray," the good book says, and the rebels heed the advice. The Abolitionists are not much afflicted, and their show of devotion is in the worst taste. They assume that the Lord ought to be on their side, and if He doesn't help them He doesn't do His duty. This self-righteousness looks Bad as the cause of Lee and Davis is, their

STRATEGIC.-We are a disappointed miliary man. If our paper of yesterday did not give a few lessons to Generals Hooker and Lee, it's not our fault. If any one will look carefully over our suggestions to both of these officers, they will see how easily Hooker might have gone on to Richmond, with Keyes checkmating Lee at that point. Men who are not like us editors, and have never had command of two grand armies, never can appreciate the feeling of mortification and disgust We desire to procure the services of a local agent in that we have when two grand armies don't do wery Postoffice District in the State. Will our friends just what we expect them to do. General Lincoln, General Halleck and ourselves, who have that calm view of the board which you common men can't and never can have, cannot appreciate our feelings upon occasions

By a brief glance at this map it will be seen that Keyes comes up on one side and gives Lee a blow "in force" on the right, while Hooker puts in a finisher on his left.

We have put down very carefully all the bridges that Stoneman burnt on his raid, with the small towns and postoffices, together with the general lay of the country; and we behomes, must and shall be maintained. The lieve ours is the first map that has done this. It may require more than a cursory or even a very scrutinizing glance to detect the positions of those villages, bridges, etc.; but the advantage of our map over any that ever can or will be published is, that if any one can't find the aforesaid points of military interest, he can put them down just where he pleases. We must confess, however, that when we saw that General Halleck had taken the field yesterday morning, we were in doubt. We have conversed with a number of men, from Brigadier Generals down through Colonels, Captains and privates who were in the attack on Beauregard at Corinth, and they assure us substitutes and for conscripts (white men), to that General Halleck never took the field-but always the dirt road; that is, he "used the spade."

> Aside from these trifling mistakes which will happen to the best of Generals, we think our plan perfect, and we will never cease to admire it as the perfection of strategic wisdom.

> As a summary, we denounce the telegraphic reports as nothing but a pack of lies, and loudly assert that the rebel General Lee don't play fair. In disgust, we throw down our sword, and retire to the shades of private life. If our example can teach any lesson, we hope it will be that our brother Generals, Lincoln, Halleck and Stanton, will follow it, and put McClellan to play the game, who cheats as much, or more, than Lee, since he once got within five miles of that mirage of the desert, the famous capital of the rebel Confederacy.

> THE LEADER OF THE MISSISSIPPI CAVALRY EXPEDITION.-Colonel B. H. Grierson, the Mississippi, is from Illinois, which State has furnished so many good and true men to the armies of the Union. At the beginning of the war, says the Springfield Journal, he "entered the service from principle, acting for several months as the aid of General Prentiss. Subsequently, on the resignation of the then Colonel of the regiment, he assumed its command. Since then he has gone steadily forward in the discharge of his duty, taking no pains to secure the praise of newspaper correspondents and making no efforts to secure promotion The result is that he has won a reputation as the best cavalry officer in General Grant's De partment, and one of the best in the service. as is fully attested by the dangerous and im-

His last whereabouts have been discovered in Milan, where he has as sumed the guise of a woman. All their corps are still watching Hooker on the Rappahannock, and to move back now to Richmond would, in the present condition of Lec's army, prove very dangereus. Their forces at Petersburg are not very large, and cannot hope to hold out very long against the large army we are marching in that direction.

On the contrary, friend Harney, the Republicans elected but one candidate out of the thirteen officers voted for. The Democrats elected Mayor, Treasurer, Marshal, Clerk, City Attorney, three School Trustees and four out of the five Councilmen chosen. Will you be kind enough to "make a note on 't?"

The city turns out to receive them, and a continuous cheer rolls along the dense masses gathered on the sidewalks to welcome them home. The Cause of Poland.

From the extracts from the European pres published in late New York papers, we learn that a number of French officers have temporarily thrown up their commissions in the French army to go and fight on the side of the Polish insurgents. In this respect the policy of the French Government is very different now from what it was in 1831, when Louis Philippe published an address to the army, in which he gave out that no officer who resigned his commission to serve in Poland should, under any circumstances, be readmitted into the service. Besides French. there are numerous Italians, Hungarians, and not a few Bohemians, who are, in many respects, very nearly allied to the Poles.

The Polish correspondent of a London paper says that the Russian soldiery much prefer fighting against insurgents without uniforms than with, because they can sell plain clothes to the Jews, and that their custom is when they see a citizen in the distance first to shoot him and then inquire if he is an insur gent. He adds that the Russian soldiers are anxious for this and similar reasons to have the insurrection continue When the amnesty of the Emperor of Rus sia to the Poles was published, the newsboys of Cracow created considerable amusement by running about the streets all the afternoon shouting out, "The Amnesty for two pence;" which is supposed to be just about what it is worth.

The Poles residing in Paris have presented the following address to Prince Napoleon. Among the signatures are those of Prince Czartoryski, General Zamoyski, M. Galen zowski, Colonel Kamienski, Bohdan Zaleski, and others: "Monseigneur: We have been long aware of the sympathy which your Imperial Highness entertains for a country whose long sufferings and patriotic constancy have a claim to your generous heart. You have just given us a new and striking proof of those sentiments. With a feeling of grateful emotion we have heard the warm-hearted and elont words which you have recently spoken in the Senate in favor of Poland, tracing in indelible characters the picture of the oppression which weighs upon our country, denouncing and stigmatizing iniquity and apostacy, speaking of Poland as a sister of France who has suffered and is still suffering, while she waits for justice. We are happy, Monsigneur, to express to you the gratitude with which your words and your acts have inspired us, feeling convinced that we may always rely upon your support. Your sympathy for a just cause can orly increase from attacks which confer honor when they emanate from accomplices of a foreign domination, from men who are justly branded by you as history also will brand them."

The force under General Grenville A Dodge, who performed such gallant services recently at Bear Creek and Tuscumbia, Alahama, is called the "Jackass Brigade," The men belong to the infantry branch of the service, and are all mounted on mules. A CANARD.-The Washington Chronicle, of the 9th inst., says that the statement in a rebel paper that the pirate Semmes, of the Alabama had captured the steamship Moses Taylor, with a freight of one million of dollars in treasure, is a sheer fabrication, as the Moses Taylor is on the line between San Francisco and San Juan, Nicaragua, on the Pacific ocean. The treasure from California is transported by the Panama route.

THE PROVISION QUESTION.-In some THE PROVISION QUESTION.—In some sections of the country, particularly those from which the army has drawn largely for subsistence, and where negroes are few and the principal portions of the farming population are enlisted in the war, provisions are becoming scarce, and, on account of the redundant currency, are difficult to obtain among many who have no better facilities for making money than when it was less abundant in the country. The poor and improvident classes about most of the cities near which troops have been stationed, are unable to obtain that quantity stationed, are unable to obtain that quantity and quality of food which is necessary to the promotion of comfort or health. While this state of affairs may be a necessity, and a most deplorable, not to say alarming one, we are as deplorable, not to say asarming one, we are assured that such necessity does not exist from actual scarcity of provisions.

Two causes have chirfly operated in bringing about the existing condition. First, the army supplies have been drawn from the markets in such quantities as to keep up a constant advance in prices, which, together with the effects of a superabundant currency, has created a fictitious value that the surply of provided and the surple su ated a fictitious value, that the supply of pro-visions does not justify, and which the agents of the Government are not disposed to allow, while seizures are tolerated; and this latter phase has brought about the second and more justifiable cause of the apparent deficiency, by causing the holders of provisions to conceal them. Under these circumstances a sort of famine-panic will in all probability pervade the whole country, and as is always the case with whole country, and as is always the case with people in a panic, no matter what may be its cause, the most imprudent course will be sure to be pursued. People whe have an abundance will be less disposed to self, at any price, than if there was no apprehension of actual suffering, or prospect of general scarcity.

[From the Atlanta Intelligencer.] SOLDIER'S WIT .- A short time ago a member of Orr's regiment, well known to many of our readers as Bill McKinney, a real bel esprit, stepped into one of the stores in Columbia and inquired for a paper of pins, which the merchant very politely banded him, when Bill asked the "One dollar and fifty cents, sir," re ied the merchant.

I am sorry to say that I have seen, ten or fifteen miles from Huntsville, a good deal of land prepared for cotton. Why is this? Do these men love money better than they do their country? Are they ignorant of the fact that the enemy hope to conquer us by our failure to produce enough food to sustain ourselves? Do they not know the present high prices of meat, corn and flour? What object have they in view in raising cotton? Are they aware that they are virtually aiding the enemy to subjugate themselves, and that if all the men in the Confederacy were to act as they are doing, that we would, not-withstanding the courage of our soldiers, be a conquered people? We appeal to these men, before it is too late, to plow up their cotton, if they have planted it, and plant corn. For one year let the love of country be above the love of money. * * This war of defense waged by Is-rael against the oppressive and invading hosts of Midian, Amalek and "the East" was a war ordained by God. In this consisted the potency of their battle shout—it was "the sword of the Lord." We have the highest sanctions for war in a just cause. And as melancholy and calamitous as it may be, it frequently becomes the imperative duty of a nation. A nation cannot maintain its rights and privileges by civil and local law against a foreign enemy, who does not selven who by civil and local law against a foreign enemy, who does not acknowledge its right to enact, decide and execute law for those who are politically beyond its jurisdiction. In such a case it can only resort to arms, make it a question of physical force, and submit the result to the arbitrament of Jehovah, who has declared "the battle is not always to the strong." Though horrible and bloody the tribunal of appeal it is a political and religious tribunal of appeal, it is a political and religious necessity; for without it all governmental or national existence would be undetermined and destroyed forever, and perpetual anarchy would sweep law, order and religion into the sea of oblivion.

[From the Mobile Tribune, April 9.] SINGULAR CREDULITY .- It is said that the Northerners, in a certain practical sense, be-lieve in everything but a God. Possibly this alleged skepticism in the great to mono theo— the one only God of the universe—will ac-count, to some extent, for the boundlessness count, to some extent, for the boundlessness of their faith in the petty idols and earthly gods of their own creation. They long since began to throw doubts upon the Bible—as a pro-slavery book—and we suppose that they now refuse longer to recognize an overruling deity, for the same wise reason. Idolators generally, we believe, are not over scrupulous as to the character of the progress they set up for the ordinary purpose. over scrupulous as to the character of the images they set up for the ordinary purposes of worship; and the most repulsive of beasts are as often the objects of their adoration as beings of a nobler nature. The Northerners, beyond doubt, are sad idolaters; or how on any other hypothesis can we account for twenty millions of them singing daily poems to such a divinity as Abe Lincola?

OFFICERS IN RICHMOND. The starred and epauletted gentry were as scarce yesterday in the Capital as fruit out of scason, and the thoroughfares, robbed of their gaiety, looked deserted and dull. The cause was soon explained. An order has been promulgated by the Secretary of War, through General Winder directing an inventory to be General Winder, directing an inventory to be taken of all officers in Richmond without pertaken of all officers in Richmond without permission, and the arrest of all found "playing truant" from the army. The order caused an immense deal of fluttering among the bogus and fancy militaire kids, and there was an immediate "sloughing" of regimentals on the part of some of them.

During Monday and yesterday Captain Maccubbin's force overhauled between three and four hundred officers, and hastened their return to their respective posts of duty. The order is being enforced with more than the usual impartiality.

The people have concluded, and concluded wisely, that other means of carrying on the war exist besides that of issuing paper credis. The war has gone on up to this time without touching that great resource of a wealthy community—taxation. The Government has called on the record for shequitely nothing in community—taxation. The Government has called on the people for absolutely nothing in support of the war, except their young men. After a fight of five hours and thirty minutes we silenced the lower batteries, but failed to silence the upper one, which was high, strongly built, had guns of very heavy caliber, and the vessels were unmanageable in the heavy current. It fired but feebly toward the last, and the vessels all laid by and enfilladed it, while I went up a short distance to communicate with General Grant, who concluded to land the troops and march over to a point two miles below Grand Gulf. I sent the Lafayette back to engage the upper batteries, which she back to engage the upper batteries, which she did, and drove the persons out of it, as it did not respond after a few fires. At 6 P. Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy:

Sir: I have the honor to report that I got under way this morning with the Lafayette, Carondelet, Mound City and Pittsburg, and proceeded up to the forts at Grand Gulf for the purpose of stacking them again, if they had not been abandoned. The enemy had left before we got up, blowing up theirammunition, spiking their large guns and burying or taking away their lignter ones. The armament consisted of thirteen guns in all. The works are of the most extensive kind, and would seem to defy the efforts of a much heavier fleet than the one which silenced them. The forts were literally torn to pieces by the accuracy of our fire. Colonel Wade, the commandant of the batteries, was killed; also his chief of staff. Eleven men were killed that we know of, and our inform. silled; also his chief of staff. We had a hard fight for these forts, and it is with real pleasure that I report that the navy holds the door to Vicksburg. Grand Gulf is the strongest place on the Mississippi. Had the enemy succeeded in finishing the fortifications no fleet could have taken them.

I have been all over the works and found them as follows: One fort on a point of rocks, seventy-five feet high, calculated for six or seven guns, mounting two seven-inch rifles and one eight-inch and one Parrott gun on wheels, which was carried off. On the left of this work is a triangular work calculated to mount one heavy gun. These works are connected with another fort by a covered way and double rifle pits extending one quarter of a double rifle pits extending one quarter of a mile, constructed with much labor and show-ing great skill on the part of the constructor. The third fort commands the river in all directions. It mounted one splendid Blakely one hundred pounder, one eight-inch and two thirty pounders. The latter were lying burst-ed or broken on the ground. The gunboats had so covered up everything with earth that it was impossible to see at first what was there, with the exception of the guns that were dismounted or broken. Every gun that fell into our hands was in good condition, and we found a large quantity of ammunition.

These are by far the most extensively built works, with the exception of those at Vicks burg, I have seen yet, and I am happy to say that we hold them. I am dismounting the guns and getting on pard the ammunition.

Since making the above examination new forts have been passed nearly finished. They had no guns, but were complete of the kind as regards position, and had heavy field-pieces in DAVID D. PORTER.

We understand that it was not generally known that he was in the neighborhood, but that his presence and busi-ness was concealed from all but those who diness was concealed from all but those who directly sympathized with his acts. It was ascertained by Mr. W. H. Wadsworth that young Waller and a squad of recruits would leave the county for the rebel army on Thursday night, and that they were encamped at the Fair Grounds. Informing none but those necessary for the work of his purpose, Mr. Wadsworth perfected his plans for pursuing the work convenient the whole company, which and capturing the whole company, which he did with the assistance of five men. We he did with the assistance of five men. We have heard the ingenuity of Mr. Wadsworth on the occasion highly complimented, and the game was bagged without resistance, and without a shot being fired. They were well armed, and had freely helped themselves to a number of fine horses belonging to Union citizens. We regret, for the sake of the friends and parents of the young men. that they were citizens. We regret, for the sake of the friends and parents of the young men, that they were engaged in a business which will probably result in serious discomfort and inconvenience to them. They were sent to Clincinnati on last evening by the Bostona. Their names are Geo. Laws, Jas. Scudder, Wm. Waller, Mark Wallace, Jas. Lloyd, Ben McAtee, Wat McDaniel, Shultz Leach, Jas. Rumford, J. M. Bennett, and Wm. Vater.

On yesterday a young man named James Ricketts was heard, while under the influence of liguor, to declare his intention to join the of liquor, to declare his intention to join the rebcis, and to threaten that before leaving he would fire the city of Maysville. He was arrested and sent to Cincinnati.

On Thursday eight Confederate soldiers, who had been engaged in stealing horses and promiscaously plundering Fleming county, were eaptured and sent to this city and on yesterday were forwarded from here to Cincinnati. Altogether the week's work has been quite profitable.

DEMOCRÁ

rgument in the United States Court for a Writ of Habeas Corpus-The Petition and Motion of Vallandigham-Charecteristic Explanatory Document from General Burnside.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO, SS.

the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States, within and for the District oforesaid: Your petitioner, Clement L. Vallandigham, Your petitioner, Clement L. Vallandigham, says that he is a native-born citizen of the State of Ohio, residing in Montgomery county, and not enlisted or commissioned in the land or naval forces of the United States, nor called into actual service so one of the militia of any State; nevertheless, on the 5th day of May, instant, between two and three o'clock in the morning of said day, his dwelling house (in which he and his family then were) in the city of Dayton and county then were), in the city of Dayton, and county of Montgomery aforesaid, was surround-ed by about one hundred soldiers, armed and in uniform as such, and acting under the direction of Ambrose E. Burnside, a Major General in the Army of the United States; which soldiers then and there violently breke the outer door and two inner doors of your petitioner's said house, and entered the same, and they are the same, and then and there seized your petitioner by overpowering numbers, and thence carried him to the city of Cincinnati, in Hamilton county, in the State and Southern District of Ohio, where they imprisoned him, against his will, in a building on Second or Columbia street, then used as a military prison; and your petitoner says that he has ever since been, and now is, detained in custody in said city of Cincinnati, under a military guard, of which said Ambrose E. Burnside is command-

Your petitioner alleges that he was thus rolently seized in his own house, in the night time, without any warrant issued upon prob-able cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and in contempt of his rights as an American citizen. He says, also, that since his impris-opment, as aforesaid, a paper has been deliv-ered to him (of which a true copy is herewith annexed) purporting to contain a charge and annexed) purporting to contain a charge and specification against him, signed by J. M. Cutts, Captain and Judge Advocate, on which Cutts, Captain and Judge Advocate, on which charge and specification he has been arraigned, against his will, before a number of officers of the army of the United States, assembled in a room of the St. Charles Exchange, on East Third street, in the city of Cincinnati, styling themselves a Military Commission, and assuming to exercise judicial authority at the instigation of said Ambrose E. Buruside, as Major General aforesaid. But your petitioner deems that he is not subject to any such mode of avaignment or of trial and claims that all deems that he is not subject to any such mode of arraignment or of trial, and claims that all rocecdings of that description are, in his case, orbidden by the Constitution and laws of the

Inited States.
Therefore, and to the end that he may be Therefore, and to the end that he may be relieved from manifest eppression under color of m litary authority, and that he may be charged in due course of law, in this Court or some other, with whatsoever crime he is intended to be imputed by the charge and specification above mentioned, your petitioner moves your Honors to grant him a writ of habeus corpus, directed to said Ambrose E. Burnside and all persons assembled to act in obedience to his orders, commanding him and them forthwith to bring the body of your petitioner. them forthwith to bring the body of your pe-titioner before this Court, together with the cause (if any) of his capture and detention And your petitioner submits hereby to what-my presence, this 9th day of May, A. D. 1863.

JOSEPH H. GEIGER,
Clerk C. C. U. S., Southern District of Ohio.

On motion of Flamen Ball, Esq., District Attorney, a recess of one half hour was taken, in order to enable him to produce a written statement which Gen. Burnside was preparing and desired to present. The following is a copy of the document as read by Mr. Ball: HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE OHIO, To the Honorable the Circuit Court of the United States within and for the Southern District of

Ohio: Ohio:
The undersigned, commanding the Department of the Ohio, having received notice from the clerk of said court that an application for the allowance of a writ of habeas corpus will traitor. If the officers or soldiers were to indulge in such criticisms, it would weaken the army to the extent of their influence; and if this criticism were universal in the army, it would cause it to be broken to pieces, the government to be divided, our homes to be invaded, and anarchy to reign. My duty to my Government forbids me to indulge in such criticisms; officers and soldiers are not allowed to so indulge, and this course will be sustained by all honest men.

Now, I will go further. We are in a state of civil war. One of the States of this department is at this moment invaded, and three others have been threatened. I command the department, and it is my duty to my country and to this army to keep it in the best possible condition; to see that it is fed, clad, armed, and, as far as possible, to see that it is encouraged. If it is my duty and the duty of the troops to avoid saying anything that would weaken the army, by preventing a single recruit trom joining the ranks, it is equally the duty of every citizen in the department to avoid the same evil. If it is my duty to provent the propagation of this evil in the army or in a portion of my department, in act.

Mr. Pugh having concluded his lengthy speech, Mr. A. F. Perry, on behalf of General Burnside, and argument par con-line that the differed with the General, that the citizen has the right to discuss the merits of the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such discuss the merits of the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such discuss the merits of the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such discuss the merits of the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such discuss the merits of the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such discuss the merits of the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such divent the President and all others in authority, and even to indulge in such divent to be the president and duty to prevent the propagation of this evil in the army, or in a portion of my department, it is equally my duty in all portions of it; and it is my duty to use all the force in my power

If I were to find a man from the enemy's

If I were to find a man from the enemy's country distributing in my camps speeches of their public men that tended to demoralize the troops or to destroy their confidence in the constituted anthorities of the Government I would have him tried, and hung if found guilty, and all the rules of modern warfare would sustain me. Why should such speeches from our own public men be allowed?

The press and public men in a great emergency like the present should avoid the use of party epithets and bitter invectives and discourage the organization of secret political societies, which are always undigolified and disgraceful to a free people, but now they are absolutely wrong and injurious; they create dissensions and discord, which, just now, amounts to treason. The simple names "Patriot" and "Traitor" are comprehensive enough.

mounts to treason. The simple names "Patriot" are comprehensive enough.

As I before said, we are in a state of civil war, and an emergency is upon us which requires the operations of some power that moves more quickly than the civil.

There never was a war carried on successfully without the exercise of that po wer.

It is said that the speeches which are condemned them. That is no argument. The cit zens do not realize the effect upon the army of our country, who are its defenders. They have never been in the field; never faced the enemies of their country; never underwent the privations of our soldiers in the field; and, besides, they have been in the habit of hearing their public men speak, and, as ageneral thing, of approving of what they say; therefore, the greater responsibility rests upon the public men and upon the public press, and it behooves them to be careful as to what they say. They must not use license and plead that they are exercising liberty. In this department it can not use license and plead that they are exercising liberty. In this department it can not use license, and I am sure I will be sustained in this course by all honest men. At all events, I will have the consciousness, before God, of having done my sciousness, before God, of having done my duty to my country; and when I am swerved from the performance of that duty, by any pressure, public or private, or by any prejudice, I will no longer be a man or a patriot.

I again assert, that every power I passess on earth, or that is given me from above, will be used in defense of my Government, on all occasions, at all times and in all places within this denertment. There is no navity-no comment from General Burnside.

Pursuant to the adjournment of last Saturday for the lengthy arguments, pro and con, in the above mentioned case. Court convened at ten o'clock, and, after the reading of the minutes, the Hon. George E. Pugh appearing with Hon. George H. Pendleton, as counsel for Mr. Vallandigham, renewed his motion of Saturday for the issuing of a writ. The following document, which was read on Saturday last, was then produced by Mr. Pugh:

United States of America, ? ity of the Government and army; while the latter is in the presence of the enemy, it is cowardly so to weaken it. This license could not be used in our camps—the man would be torn in pieces who would at-attempt it. There is no fear of the people losing their liberties; we all know that to be the cry of demagogues, and none but the ignorant will listen to it; all intelli-gent men know that our people are too far advanced in the scale of religion, civiliza-tion, education and freedom, to allow any power on earth to interfere with their liberties; but this same advancement in these great characteristics of our people teaches them to make all the necessary sacrifices for their country when an emergency requires.

They will support the constituted authorities of the Government whether they agree with of the Government whether they agree with them or not. Indeed, the army itself is a part of the people, and is so thoroughly educated in the love of civil liberty, which is the best guarantee for the permanence of our republi-can institutions, that it would itself be the first to oppose any attempt to continue the exercise of military authority after the estab-lishment of peace by the overthrow of the rebellion. No man on earth can lead our cit-izen coldiery to the establishment of a mil-itary despotism, and no man living would have the folly to attempt it. To do so would down our arms. All sensible men know this to be untrue. Were it so, ought we to be so cowardly as to lay them down until the authority of the Government is acknowledged?

I beg to call upon the fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, sons, daughters, relatives, friends and neighbors of the soldiers in the field to aid me in stopping this license and intemperate discussion, which is discoursging our armies, weakening the hands of the Govour armies, weather the haut of the comment and thereby strengthening the casemy. If we use our honest efforts, God will bless us with a glorious peace and a united country. Men of every shade of opinion have the same vital interest in the suppression of this rebellion; for, should we fail in the task, the dread horrors of a ruined and distracted nation will fall alike on all, whether patriots or traitors.

These are substantially my reasons for lesuing "General Order No. 38," my reasons for the determination to enforce it, and also my reasons for the arrest of the Hon. C. L. my reasons for the arrest of the Hon. C. L. Vallandigham for a supposed violation of that order, for which he has been tried. The result of that trial is now in my hands. In enforcing this order, I can be unanimously sustained by the people, or I can be opposed by factious, bad men. In the former event quietness will prevail; in the latter event the responsibility and retribution will attach to the men who resist the authority. attach to the men who resist the authority. and the neighborhoods that allow it.

and the neighborhoods that allow it.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. E. BURNSIDE,

Mej. Gen. Com'd'g Dep't of the Otio.

Following the reading of the foregoing, Mr.

Pugh made an argument, at great length, occupying nearly two hours and a half in his remarks, which were replete with eloquent relegion and the fine points of civil and millicause (if any) of his capture and detention And your petitioner submits hereby to whatsoever the Constitution of the United States in this behalf may require.

By George E. Pugh, his Attorney.

Southern District of Ohio te-wit:
George E. Pugh, being duly sworn, saye that he makes this application for a writ of habeas corpus, at the request of C. L. Vallandigham, the petitioner shove named, and that he believes the matter alleged in the forego he must follow. The speaker's duty as counsel, was merely to show that the law of the land entitled his client to it; succeeding in which it became the duty of the court to Clerk C. C. U. S., Southern District of Ohio.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, May 11, 1863.

The application on my behalf, on May 9th, 1863, to the Circuit Court of the United States, for a writ of habeas corpus, to release me from illegal military custody, was made by Hon. George E. Pugh, at my express instance and request.

C. L. VALLANDIGHAM. may be best to submit to it when it is in force—he preferred doing so. He drew copiously from English law and history, quoting Sir Mathew Hale's assertion that "martial law is no law at all." Dwelling at considerable length upon arguments on the illegality of the arrest of Mr. Vallandigham, he affirmed that by no sutbority are words recognized as treasure over acts along conrecognized as treason; overt acts alone con-stitute that. The proclamation of the Presi-dent shows that the place in which Mr. Vallandigham was arrested was not in rebellion, and on this ground he denied the right of the General commanding the Department of the Ohio to deprive that or any other person of his liberty, unless it could be clearly proven against them that they were engaged in treasonable practices. We al-ways have had rebellion of greater or less magways have had rebellion of greater or less magnitude in this country, and it would have been as just to have declared this section of the policy of the Government, it would demoralize the army under my command, and every friend of his country would call me a traitor. If the officers or soldiers were to indulge in such criticisms, it would weaken the army to the extent of their influence; and if yould cause it to have declared this section of the country under martial law during the Oregon rebellion as at the present time. Referring to the restrictions of Order No. 38, and the arrest of his client, he said that he did not doubt that General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he had differed with the General Burnside sincerely believed himself authorized in what he was right; here, how and the second of the country would be a succession of the country and it would have been as just to have declared this second of the country under martial law during the Oregon rebellion as at the present time.

could hang them as spies, however. He fully agreed in the sentiments expressod relative to secret political societies. It was his opinion, in contradistinction to that of the General, that the fact of the people who listened to Vallandigham's speech not having condemned the sentiments, was a great argument in their defense. It was the beginning and end of the argument, in fact.

Mr. Pugh having concluded his lengthy speech, Mr. A. F. Perry, on behalf of General Burnside, entered upon an argument par contra, which he will inish this morning. He spoke for over an hour and a half, yesterday afternoon, up to half pust five o'clock, when the Court adjourned. His remarks were soundly argumentative, presenting every arguments in defense of the exist of Gersoundly argumentative, presenting available point in defense of the acts eral Burnside, in answer to the attack, and in opposition to the granting of the desired writ.
As we do not desire to disconnect our sketch of his speech, we postpone its publication until to-morrow, when we will be able, probably, to gives, also, the decision of Judge Leavitt. The Democrat, published at Lewistown, Pennsylvania, says: The colored folks, of this town who emigrated to Hayti in the fall of 1861, didn't find that island quite to their liking, it seems, and accordingly they are all coming back again, excepting, of course, those who have since died (and the number of the latter is by no means small). Three of them arrived here yesterday, and the others are said to be in New York or on their way hither. Mr. Redpath, the Boston Abolitionist, and other leaders in the Hayti movement, are denounced in unmeasured terms for the deception practiced upon these people, in representing Hayti to be the "colored man's home," and otherwise picturing it as a "land of promise." IMPORTANT TO THE LADIES. DR. JOHN HARVEY, HAVING FOR UPWARDS of twenty years devoted his professional time exclusively to the treatment of Female Difficulties, and having succeeded in thousands of cases in restoring the afflicted to sound health, has now entire confidence in offering publicly his "GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY",

DR. HARVEY'S Chrono-Thermal Female Pills, Which have never yet failed (when the directions been strictly followed) in removing OBSTRUCTON OR STOPPAGE OF NATURE,

Or in restoring the system to perfect health, when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus Uteri, the Whites, or other weaknesses of the Uterine Organs, Also, in all cases of Debility or Nervous Prostrations, diysterics, Palpitations, &c., &c., which are the foresunners of more serious disease.

B. These Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress; at the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating, and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what cause the obstructions may arise. They should, however, not be taken during the first three or four months of prognancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Among the women were Mrs. General Frost, Mrs. Montrose, A. Parmer, Mrs. Sappington, Smyser, Haynes, McClure, Nicholson, Clark and Snodgrass. The two former are wives of rebel officers, and the latter are rebel mail-carriers. The men whose families accompanied them were allowed to take with them a thousand dollars, and all the others two hundred each.

It is understood that the property of these parties will be appropriated for the benefit of sick and wounded soldiers. Another batch will probably leave on Saturday, and this will be kept up until the city and State are sifted of their more dangerous rebel elements.

WASHINGTON, May 13. A fugitive slave case pending in the Suppreme Court for this district excites much interest. CAIRO, May 13. Grant had a severe battle with Gen. Bowen at Clinton, situated on the railroad ten miles from Jackson, lasting all day. Bowen was beaten and driven back to Jackson. The rebels are preparing to hold that place, and the women and children are leaving for Meridian. It is reported from rebel sources that a large force of rebels are coming from Charleston and Mobile to prevent the capture of Jackson and Vicksburg, and that Grant is apprised of the movement and is falling back to the river to await re-enforcements.

Longstreet's Army. The correspondent of the New York Times

writes from Washington on the 10th instant as follows: One of the prisoners captured from a Virginia regiment told some of our men at Fal-mouth yesterday that the force which went down from this line of the Rappahannock to Suffolk were as follows: Hood's and Pickett's divisions, with two Hood's and Pickett's divisions, with two brigades of Pryor's, all under Longstreet; Pickeu's division, five brigades, commanded respectively by Generals Armistead, Garnett, Kemper, Jenkins and Corse. Hood's division has three brigades, commanded respectively by Generals Anderson, Benning and Laws; and a fourth brigade, from Texas, commander's name not known—perhaps the brigade formerly commanded by Hood himself.

Anderson's brigade has the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh and Fifty-ninth Georgia regiments. Benning has the Second, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Twentieth Georgia regiments. Armistead has the Ninth, Fourteenth, Thirly-eighth, Fifty third and Fifty-seventh Virginia regiments. Kemper's is also a Virginia brigade. Laws has Alabama regiments entirely.

s'x weeks ago, and the rest followed in a few days. They marched to Manchester, south to Richmond. There was a foot of snow on the Richmond. There was a foot of snow on the ground, and many of the men were barefoot. From Manchester, where they stayed a few weeks, they marched to Petersburg, and so down to Suffolk. They crossed the Blackwater on pontoon bridges.

They counted it five days' march from Richmond to Suffolk; and as they left Suffolk only on Sunday night, of course it is impossible that those troops could have been in the recent battles near Chancellorsville. The two divisions of Longstreet, of which Lee speaks, were perhaps other divisions. Troops from Suffolk apparently did not re-enforce Lee at Fredericksburg.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says, on the 10th inst.: It is strongly suspected here that the New York stock and gold markets are daily played upon by parties from this city, who, without possessing any facilities whatever for obtaining intelligence, are working upon the single presumption that because they are from Washington they must be posted, and innocent people are thus taken in.

EXCHANGING NIGGERS FOR INDIANS.—The steamer Northern, on her last trip up, carried up to Minnesota some hundred or more male and female negroes, strayed or stolen from their rightful owners, and brought down to-day (Friday) some eight hundred Indian squaws, pappooses, etc. They are the wives and children of the thirty-eight men who were hung, and the two hundred and seven men recently sent to Post McClellan, all of whom, it is said, are to be sent to Key West or to the Tortugas. The Nashville Dispatch of Wednesday contains the following account of the killing of the rebel Van Dorn : ing of the rebel Van Dorn:

The reported killing of Gen. Van Dorn by Dr. Peters has been confirmed. It occurred in his quarters at Spring Hill, on the morning of the 7th inst. Dr. Peters has arrived in this city, and from him we learn that the cause of the difficulty which resulted in the death of Van Dorn, was an interview held thirty hours previous to the killing, in which the latter agreed, on his honor, to give Dr. Peters a written statement the next day, setting forth four distinct facts. Dr. Peters said to him that upon the fulfillment of this promise, he would spare his life to his wite and children, although Van Dorn had said he cared nothing for his own wife. The next day Dr. Peters although Van Dorn had said he cared nothing for his own wife. The next day Dr. Peters was sick and did not call on Van Dorn until the second day, Thursday morning, about eight, when he demanded of Van Dorn a compliance with his promise, which he seemed rot inclined to do. Dr. Peters then said that he would give him half an hour in which to comply, and distinctly notified him that, in case of failure, his life should be the forfeit. He then walked up into the village. On his return Van Dorn read to him what he hed written. The first read to him what he had written. The first clause fully complied with his promise; the second was an entire misrepresentation; and the other two acknowledgments he refused to make. Dr. Peters, then denounced him for his bad faith, when Van Dorn cursed him for a "cowardly dog," and ordered him to leave a "cowardly dog," and ordered him to leave the room, or he would kick him out. Dr. Pe-ters then drew his pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the left side of the head, and producing instant death.

Dr. Peters picked up the statement Van Dorn had prepared, and has preserved it as circumstantial evidence of preceding events, and mounting his horse, rode off. Avoiding the pickets at Hurt's, he crossed Duck river and arrived at Shelbyville, when he learned that Gen. Polk, to whom he had intended surrendering himself, had issued an order for his arrest. The next morning he left for Winchester, disguised, and passing through Gainesboro' and Gallatin, arrived at this place Monday evening. Monday evening.

Years. New York, May 13.

The following address has been issued by Gen. Lee to the army under his command: HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF VIRGINIA, Headquarters Army of Virginia, May 7, 1863.

General Orders No. 59:

With heartfelt gratification the General commanding expresses to the army his sense of the heroic conduct displayed by officers and men during the operations in which they have just been engaged, under trying vicissitudes. You attacked the enemy strongly intrenched in the depths of a tangled wilderness, and again on the hills of Fredericksburg, ifficen miles distant, and by the valor that has triumphed on so many fields, forced him once more to seek safety beyond the Rappahannock. While this glorious victory entitles you to the praise and gratitude of the nation, we are especially called upon to return our grateful thanks to the only Giver of victory, for the signal deliverance He has wrought.

It is, therefore, earnestly recommended that the troops unite, on Sunday next, in ascribing to the Lord of Hosts the glory due unto Haname. Let us not forget, in our rejoicing, the brave soldiers who have fallen in defense of their country, and while we moura their loss, let us resolve to emulate their noble example. The army and country alike lament the absence, for a time, of one to whose bravery, energy and skill they are so much indebted for success.

The following letter from the President of the Confederate States is communicated to the army, as expressive of his appreciation of its success:

"I have read your dispatch, and reverently unite with you in giving praise to God for the success with which He has crowned our arms. In the name of the people, I offer my cordial thanks to yourself and troops under your command for this addition to the unprecedented series of great victories which your army has achieved. The universal rejoicing produced by this happy result will be mingled with a general regret for the good and brave who are numbered among our killed and the wounded."

R. Lee, General.

MURFREESBORO, May 12.
Although Colonel Wilder, in his recent expedition through Wilson county, met no considerable body of the enemy, he had several skirmiches with small parties, killing six, wounding eighteen, and capturing sixty-eight horses. He lost two horses killed, and one man accidentally wounded.

Wharton occupies Lebanon, but fled at Wilder's approach.

Wheeler, Morgan and Wharton are all in the vicinity of Liberty and Alexandria, with 5,000 men, probably meditating an attack on the Nashville and Chattaneogy railroad.

Brigadier General Meagher has tendered his resignation as commander of what he not unjustly styles was once known as the Irish brigade, decimated as it has been in repeated battles since its organization, until it has fallen to the low numerical standard of less than the minimum of one regiment. Meagher declines to risk the lives of the remaining few, and therefore asks to be relieved of his command, offering his personal services to the Government at the same time in any other military capacity.

The Herald says the Navy Department has ordered the construction of two vessels of war of great speed. They will carry eight heavy guns, and it is believed will be the fastest vessels that were ever built.

CINCINNATI, May 12. River fallen 2 inches. Raining off and on Incidents of the Battles.

The grape-shot taken from the foot of Lieut. Col. Newman, of the Thirty-first New York, is full an inch and a third in diameter. It was not full an inch and a third in diameter. It was not removed until Monday afternoon, the wound having been received in the Sunday's charge. He was doing well when last heard from.

The bridges opposite Fredericksburg were taken up at daybreak on Tuesday. The last soldier to leave the city was Alex. Camel, of the 23d Pennsylvania, who delaying, or being left after the bridges were taken up, stripped off his clothes and pushing them on a boat before him, swam across.

Battery K, 4th United States artillery, did most excellent service at the battle at Chancellorsville. It lost forty eight men killed cellorsville. It lost forty eight men killed and wounded. Sergeant Marrion had three horses shot under him in a few minutes. In the retreat of the 6th corps from Fredrickshurg the Union treeses.

ricksburg the Union troops captured a large number of prisoners, though compelled to leave most of the wounded on the field. Nearly one whole brigade, consisting of one General, twenty Captains, three Lieutenants, and two one whole brigade, consisting of one General, twenty Captains, three Lieutenants, and two thousand privates, which charged upon us, were, I am informed, ensured into our lines and taken prisoners. We killed the Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel and Major of the 7.h Louisiana, and the Lieut. Colonel and Major of the 5.h Louisiana. There is no question as to our having mowed the rebels down by whole regiments when they charged upon our batteries. They lay in heaps upon the tattlefield. Not a gun was taken, though so many charges upon othem were made. The corps retired in good order across the river, saving their camp equipage, mule trains, &c., with the exception of a few which were gobbled up in the momentary panic which ensued when the enemy first made their appearance in our rear above Fredericksburg. The road was filled with ambulances, pack mules and vehicles.

All the Generals are praising the gallantry of Colonel Miles, of the 6ist New York, who behaved gallantly and was wounded severely. He is said to be one of the best officers and bravest soldiers in the army. He had command of several regiments upon the lines near the Chancellor House, and with his skirmishers repulsed several strong attacks without their being able to reach his line of battle. If he should live, he will certainly be promoted.

DR. JOHN BULL'S COMPOUND

The Latest and Most Important Dis-covery of the 19th Century.

No MAN 8 NAME IS MORE INTIMATELY CONthe United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in med cal discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL. of Louisvile. Ay. His limitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long shood at the head of the various compounds of that v hable drag. His Compound Percorat.
of Wild Cherry, has become a household word throughout the West and South; and his Worm Lozer ges, in le s than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide-spread as the continent of North America. But v e croweing glory of his life remains to be attained in his atest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to indore this extravagant pietension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all eie asses arising from exposure, either to charg s of weather and climat, or to the missmatic influences, it st. not without a rival, and justify deserves the reputation i has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies. In

DYSPEPSIA, And its attendent train of symptoms, it acts more like a charm than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of the Materia Medica, that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be fund in the lith edition of the U.S. Dispensatory, pages 1387 and 1388 the fin edition of the U.S Dispensatory, pages 1837 and 1884.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonices, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper-distilled Bonthon whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might turnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such thing; at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the Cedron Bitters, one trial and you will never use any others.

It is not necessary to publish a long list of disease or which the Cedro a Bitters are a specific. for which the Cedroa Bitters are a specific.

DR. HALL'S LOUISVILLE MEDICAL INFIRMARY. Conducted on the plan of the Hospita des Veneriene, Paris,

WHERE THOSE AFFLICTED WITH any form of PRIVATE DISEASE can receive prompt treatment without risk or exposure, viz. Siphilis. Gonorrhoa, Gleet, Strictures, Uleers, Tumors, Cancers, Secondary and Gonstitutional Siphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, etc. By his system it is proved that the venerial complaint is as ent rely under the control of medicine as a common cold or simple fever; and while inefficient persons are daily send ng away their patients in hopelessaess, and giving them up only from their own incommetency, complete and per manent cures are constantly being encircular and a firmary.

YOUNG MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—Dr. H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of these cases caused by a secret habit which runs both body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. The sad effects of the e early habits, or the excess of riper years, or to weaken and deb litate the constitution, destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfechle the natural feelings, and exhaust the vit-1 energies of manhood: the pleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage frustrated, and existence itself rendered a term of unceasing misery and regret. Description of the "Louisville Mower."

THIS MACHINE IS MADE ALMOST ENTIRELY OF IRON. IT IS EXCLEDINGLY COMPACT AND SIMPLE, AND STRONG BEYOND ANY POSSIBILITY OF breaking. It cuts a swath 4 feet 4 inches wide, and cuts even and smooth in all kit ds of grass. It has a lever for raising the finger-bar from the ground for passing obstructions, or for moving from fine d to field. It is arranged to throw itself out of gear when backing and is convenient to handle in every respect. It weighs 650 pounds, which is heavier than several of the newly-invented Machines, but none too heavy, we think, to stand the rough and carriess usage to which all mowers are subject.
